

FEBRUARY FLES NEWS

Everyone loves to talk about food! It is important to be able to ask for something politely. In January, all students learned about snack foods and breakfast foods. They read a silly story about eating too much snack, and sang songs about snack and breakfast. They expressed preferences about what they like and do not like, and performed skits in which they asked politely for snack and breakfast foods and beverages. They drew and labelled what they would most like for breakfast; they must have good appetites in the morning! They performed a funny rap about pets eating and drinking breakfast foods; rhyme and rhythm are a great reinforcement for new language skills.
